WARRANT ISSUED FOR ARREST OF W. SOUTHARD ON FORGERY CHARGE

Loss of about $1400 by the Employees' Association of the General Chemical company, alleged to have been taken by William Southard of Nichols over a period of eight or nine months, has resulted in the issuance yesterday of a warrant for his arrest on a charge of forgery and institution of a search for him. Alleged irregularities in handling of association funds by Southard, secretary of the association, according to District Attorney A. B. Tinning, involves forging of the name of L. V. Cuneo, president of the association, to a considerable number of checks. Checks of the association to be cashed had to bear both the signatures of Cuneo and Southard. Southard, according to information given the district attorney, would claim that he had lost the bank's pass book when it came time for an audit and would submit an old book which always showed a correct balance.

The First National Bank of Pittsburg, with which the association had its funds deposited, cashed some of the alleged forged checks, while others were cashed by persons not identified either with the bank or the association. The frauds were discovered shortly before July 15 when the Pittsburg bank gave notice that the association's account had been overdrawn $300. The specific charge against Southard alleges forging the name of Cuneo to a check for $70 on July 12. Southard has been employed as a carpenter at the Nichols plant for five years, and was highly regarded. He is said to have left Nichols on July 15 and has not been heard of since.

Merchants Night Is Observed By Tribe of Redmen

Merchants Night was observed by Onetah Tribe of Redmen at their meeting in Redmen's hall last night, an Italian fish dinner being the big feature of the evening. A number of members were present after long absences, among them being J. D. Reulein and W. S. Bonner, both charter members. Others were Fred Vosbeck, John A. King, Paul Beedy, Walter Gianelli and C. C. Sanford, each of whom addressed the tribe with a few words.

J. D. Reulein, retiring foreman of the Barrelhouse of the Standard Oil plant was presented with a Redmen's emblem during the evening, by O. J. Ripley, another Standard employee. Jazz music furnished by Emilie Espla, chief of tom toms livened the meeting considerably. The committee in charge was composed of Bill Mayers, Joe Ferrasso, R. B. Dougall, Walter Gianelli and Morris Cavanaugh.

Senior Sagamore Night will be observed at the meeting next Wednesday night with the following committee in charge: G. F. Obenland, O. L. Dietrich and Julio Toneri. The nature of the attraction which the committee is working out, is being kept secret.

Warrant Issued For Arrest Of Mrs. J. Campbell

Mrs. Mrs. Alice Campbell who on June 16, last, shot her husband, Jesse Campbell twice and then turned the gun on herself, was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, and was liberated on $2,000 bail. The warrant was issued yesterday by Justice of the Peace John Roth, the Richmond police swearing to the complaint.

The case has been under investigation by District Attorney A. B. Tinning, with Deputy District Attorney Hiram Jacobs of Richmond making the investigation here. It was decided by the district attorney's office that the case was one that could not be let go unnoticed, and after the woman's husband and her mother failed to swear to a complaint, action was taken by the police.

The couple had separated, and charges made in a divorce suit are alleged to have resulted in the shooting. This was dismissed following the shooting, and this week a new complaint was filed by Campbell through Attorneys Pierce and Carlson, charging cruelty, based on the shooting affair.

RICH. KNIGHTS WILL PARADE IN BIG PAGEANT FOR PRES. HARDING

Eminent Commander Harry L. Ellis, Generalissimo C. D. Horner, and Recorder W. F. Fraser have been selected by Richmond Commandery No. 59, Knights Templar to attend the big Masonic pageant to be given at Hollywood August 2nd, in honor of President Warren Harding. These representatives will appear in the parade with the Richmond Commandery flag.

On that date Marion Commandery, No. 36, Knights Templar, of Marion, Ohio, of which organization the President is a distinguished member, will present to Hollywood Commandery No. 56, Knights Templar, what is known as the International Traveling Beausant.

The occasion will be made memorable, not only to the Masonic fraternity, but to the entire Southland. It will be one of the most important events in the history of Masonry on the Pacific Coast; because one of the greatest honors that can fall to a Commandery of Knights Templar will be conferred upon the Hollywood Commandery, and for the further reason that the chief executive of the United States will honor the event with his personal appearance and direct participation in the ceremonies incident to the transfer of the emblematic banner.

Imposing Spectacle
All the Commanderies of Southern California, and many of the northern organizations will be present in full Templar uniform with their colors and bands and will participate in the parade and in the ceremonies at the Bowl. The long line of white plumed knights will make an imposing parade.

Beausant Described
The Beausant is a silken banner, 2 1/2 feet wide by 3 1/2 in length, the upper half of which has a black field and the lower half a white field in ritualistic significance of the Beausant, which is known to all Knights Templar. It is beautifully adorned on both the upper and lower fields. It is suspended from a staff surmounted by a triangular ornament bearing on each of its three sides, emblems of Cyrene Preceptory. Beneath the staff is a series of flat, gold rings, one of which is added by each Commandery having the Beausant in custody, and upon which is inscribed the name of the Commandery. The Grand Jurisdiction it represents, the date of transfer and to whom transferred.

A beautifully engrossed record book accompanies the banner so that when the pilgrimage is completed its complete history will have been written.

ARM SUDDENLY PARALYZED

Oakland, April 23, 1923.
One day as I was walking across the floor, carrying a bucket of water, I had a paralytic stroke, and my right arm was paralyzed in a second. I was unable to even raise my right hand, and my fingers were stiff and seemed to be dead. I remained in this condition for about nine months, during which time I consulted several physicians, but none of them could do anything for me.

My husband I at last determined to consult the FONG WAN HERBALIST, and as a result I began drinking the tea. During the first few weeks there were signs of improvement, and I could move my fingers. Now, after ten weeks, I am fully recovered. I can even sweep and scrub the floors. No one can guess how happy I am. My address may be had at the Fong Wan Herb Office.

Lefty Cothran hurled shut-out ball yesterday afternoon and the Refiners practically clinched the 1923 championship of the Twilight League by handing the Mechanics a 9 to 0 beating. What gave promise of being a tight game between two strong contenders for the pennant turned out to be a walkaway for the Refiners, who simply outclassed Cleek's outfit in every department of the game.

Johnny Garvin's Triumph

It was a great victory for Little Johnny Garvin, who has tried hard this season to bring the 1921 champions back to the top from the basement position which they occupied last season. The Refiners played like champions yesterday, pounding the horsehide to all corners of the lot and fielding their positions in good style.

Lefty Cothran pitched brilliant ball and was only in trouble once—the fifth when the Mechanics filled the bags but were unable to score.

Hal Dimmock had an ailing arm so he cavorted in right field while Kogler did the mound honors. When the Dutchman is right he is a hard man to beat, but he was far from right last night. Cleek let him go the entire route, having no other chuck or but Hockett, who usually walks, in all in.

Refiners Tally in First

The first inning passed without any scoring but the Refiners unloaded their bats in the second and put over three runs. Skipper Roberts ran his hit streak to eight consecutive singles by smashing the pellet over the right field wall for a home run. Zimmerman followed with a single to right center and advanced a notch on Cullers' sacrifice. Rubart pasted a hot one through third to score Zimmerman, and Bartram doubled to left to count Rubart.

A double play halted the scoring but the Refiners came right back in the third and annexed another trio of markers. Red Johnson drew a pass and went to the middle station on Autry's infield out. Schaller doubled right to score Johnson, and the Duke himself counted when Zimmerman busted into the home run class by hoisting the apple over the right center fence.

Roberts Again Homes

Kogler settled down and pitched three scoreless innings but the Refiners were not to be denied and rang the bell three more times in the seventh. Johnson started things with a single to right and Autry sacrificed. Schaller followed with a lucky hit through short, scoring Johnson. Skipper Roberts then connected for his second circuit drive of the day and Schaller romped in ahead of him.

The Mechanics tried hard to score but the fifth frame was the only time that they came near breaking into the score column. Lane's single, Bartram's error of Daley's grounder and a walk filled the bases, but Cothran bore down and retired the side.

Sidelights of the Game

By winning yesterday the Refiners practically sewed up the bunting, but there is still chance for the Mechanics to come out on top in the present race. A similar state of affairs existed last season when the Mechanics trimmed their most dangerous rivals, the Barrel House tossers, but fell prey to the All Standards shortly after and the regular season ended in a tie for first place. This gave the Barrel House players new hope and they trounced the Mechanics in the play-off the following week. The Refiners may grow careless in their games with the All Standards and Barrel House in the next two weeks, and the flag chase will again be fought out between Garvin's gang and the Mechanics.

Lefty Cothran was in his usual good form last night and the Mechanics could do little with his offerings. In the first inning they hit the ball hard but were lucky to touch it after that. Garvin plans to use Wolfram against the Barrel House next week and to shoot Cothran against the All Standards in the final game of the season.

McNulty, Mechanic left fielder, again hurt his injured leg in the second inning in an attempt to throw Zimmerman out at home, and shortly after was replaced by Lane, who has been out of the game this season with a bum hand. Lane made a bad boot in the field but drove out two nice hits.

Peppin made the best play of the game when he leaped into the air in the second and raked Cothran's liner out of the clouds, doubling Bartram at second unassisted.

Skipper Roberts set a Twilight League record yesterday when he drove out a home run in his first time at bat and made it eight consecutive times that he has hit safely. In his second trip to the platter Skipper popped up weakly to Lamarra, however.

The home run hit by Zimmerman yesterday was the only one gathered this season by the speedy third sacker, but it was much longer than the drives hit by players with better home run records. The ball disappeared over the right center boards with yards and yards to spare.

BUYING FOR 475 STORES RESULTS IN BIG SAVINGS, SAYS STORE MGR.

The opening next month in Richmond of one of the J. C. Penney Company stores at 730 Macdonald avenue will be quite an event in business circles.

In this day of modern things, real success results from large-scale methods. People are not liable to accept without complaint the old order of life. Where it appears, it is marked and sooner or later is looked upon reprovingly as a chapter of the past.

And large-scale operations are no longer looked upon with wonderment. They are accepted as a matter of course. People quickly accustom themselves to new privileges and opportunities and would feel that if they were denied them that the World was moving backward. But it has not always been so.

There are people living today who will recall that when the railroads were introduced they were not looked upon with favor because of the prevailing notion that traveling at a speed of thirty or more miles an hour would hinder the free circulation of blood.

Fulton's steamboat was ridiculed. The first pilot of a steamboat in England became so unpopular that the London hotels refused admission to him. Howe's first sewing machine was smashed by a mob. Westinghouse's air-brakes for railroad cars was "the imagination of a fool," so the experts said, and McCormick's mechanical repair required years to overcome opposition.

Gas, electricity, automobiles, aeroplanes, all were regarded with the greatest doubts when they were introduced, and in the mercantile field the merchant who introduced more than one store "was biting off more than he could chew."

But the new order of things prevailed. From doubt and skepticism, people learned to realize and appreciate the importance to them of the great strides forward which modern invention and enterprise were making. Accustoming themselves to the greater conveniences and benefits, the only strange thing remaining about them is that they had not always existed.

The great American public today is enjoying and appreciating when buying personal and household needs savings which the comparatively modern chain department store enterprise is providing. The chain of J. C. Penney Company department stores has won by unfailing service to the public a position of leadership.

It can give the service because in its tremendous requirement of merchandise it has lessened costs to consumers by creating volume to sales. Large savings result from their large buying for 475 stores.

Take for example, shoes. Its sales are so large that it could take the entire output of one or more shoe factories, yet, for good and sufficient reasons, it prefers to purchase from a number of factories and thereby offer a variety of shoes. In this way, it maintains an independent position, always insisting and getting the utmost quality at the least possible cost.

Have you ever considered what it means to you to have expert shoemen constantly on the lookout for the best shoes at the lowest possible price? And have you ever considered that you share in the savings which large centralized buying affords?

Other merchants are working hard to meet the requirements of the public, and there is no disposition to speak disparagingly of them, but it is plain that the store that operates one cannot buy in the lots in which, as cheaply and with the same opportunities for selection, as can the J. C. Penney Company with its 475 stores.

This is mentioned simply as an illustration of the basis upon which every department in the J. C. Penney Company stores do their work.

Whatever you buy in its stores—coat, dress, suit, blouse, skirt, set, hosiery, underwear, dry goods, notions, clothing, hat, shirt, gloves—even a pair of overalls—the price has been bought by the company's long-experienced buyer direct from the maker and selected by the resident or local store manager from the stocks thus assembled.

Thus, you understand, that new goods are almost continuously arriving at each J. C. Penney Company store and are the very best values that can be had anywhere.

It is inevitable that sometimes an article regardless of how carefully

Serves More Than a Million Homes

Like or Similar to the One Pictured Above

The picture above is of "a family at home on an evening." It is a familiar scene—a happy, contented household. There is Grandmother, devoted, as usual, to her Bible; dear, sweet, untiring Mother, whose "work is never done;" Father, interrupted in the reading of his favorite newspaper by his frolicsome Daughter; Little Sister and her blocks and toys, with her Brother admiringly looking on, while at Father's slippered feet is the Dog, concerned in the playful Kitten, who is getting into mischief with Mother's knitting yarn.

The supper dishes have been washed and put away. The clock (it evidently was Grandfather's) tells us it is just past seven, the evening lamp is lit, there is an inviting dish of apples and grapes on the table, and, to all appearances, the family will be just as pleased if their enjoyment of each other is not "jarred" by callers.

It is a picture of what may be safely described as "an average American home"—that type of home and household of which the J. C. Penney Company serves more than a million. It is the kind of home, too, that is the life and the sinew of every community in the 33 States in which the 475 Department Stores of this Company are located. It is these homes and the thrift practiced in them, upon which depends the stability of the Nation.

It is these typically American homes that the J. C. Penney Company strives to serve with the utmost help, with the daily personal and household requirements. That notable success has attended the effort, is shown by the remarkable growth of the Company from one small Store in 1902, conducted by Mr. Penney and doing a business of less than $29,000, to 475 Department Stores, 21 years later, employing considerably more than four thousand men and women and, in 1923, likely to do a business of approximately $65,000,000.

We Decided to Locate One of Our New Stores Here

only after a very careful investigation of the existing general interests and conditions and the promise of future growth and added enterprises.

It has been said that a great compliment is paid to any community which is decided upon for a new J. C. Penney Company Store because of the assurance of future growth we insist upon. Be that as it may, in deciding to open a Store here it was determined that it should be one that every man, woman and child would be proud of.

In principle, in policy, in operation, in service rendered, in quality of goods provided and in the money savings afforded, our new Store here will—it must—balance with those ideals which have been directly responsible for the unusual success of our long-tested idea of collective buying and selling. Nothing will be left undone to win and merit your confidence.

The many advantages you and your neighbors are to experience in buying from us at our new Store here will, we are sure, win your warmest and most hearty approval and appreciation.

Our All-New Stocks Will Include

Dry Goods, Wearing Apparel, Clothing, Furnishings,
Shoes, Notions, Etc.—for the Whole Family—

BUYING FOR 475 STORES RESULTS IN BIG SAVINGS SAYS STORE MANAGER

It was selected at the maker's, will not give desired satisfaction to the final purchaser. Best intentions sometimes fail. However, it should be remembered that the store stands behind its goods and every failure of merchandise to serve as represented will be made good.

The J. C. Penney Company unfailingly stands for Quality, Service and Satisfaction.

Success is won, not by men but by the spirit that moves them. Whether there is in us the planter, the miner, the mechanic, the writer, the musician, the statesman or the merchant—enthusiasm alone brings forth the perfect expression of what we are and what we can do.

The addition this year of 104 new units to its already numerous multiples of department stores, is an evidence of the enthusiasm that moves the men of the J. C. Penney Company.

Meat Troubles

'Annoy Bride

"Oh, dear, I never can learn to buy meat. It really is the worst problem I've run up against since I was married."

"Cheer up, Mary. It took me a long time to learn about all those things when I was a bride. Meat is difficult, though, I'll admit."

"Why doesn't some one work up some instructions about meat? There are so many of us who don't know how to buy."

"My dear, I read just yesterday that the National Livestock and Meat Board are making arrangements to hold meat-cutting demonstrations before different women's organizations in every large city."

"Goodness that will be fine. I will be an interested listener if they ever get here with the demonstrations."

"The article also states the board said that the cheaper cuts of meat have as much food values and even more sometimes, than porterhouse steaks. It's all in knowing how to buy."

"That's what I want to know. You really know a lot more than I do, though. Won't you come with me to buy a roast when I have you all over to dinner next week? I do want my dinner to be a success and the meat is important. I am having six guests with you and your husband, you know."

Surely, I'll help you. But as a return favor I am going to ask you to come with me to Cherry's, at 515-13th street, to select a dress. They have such good values at their reduction sale and such reasonable prices and one may open a charge account there you know. They also have a separate store for the men folks, too, at 528 13th street."—Ad.
